PRESS RELEASE · ACCESS NEWSWIRE · 22 OCT 2026

When a real estate agent is in danger, a trained operator now gets the call

Agent Buddi partners with Affiliated Monitoring so that a distress signal reaches a trained emergency operator, with the agent's details and location.

Agent Buddi announced its partnership with Affiliated Monitoring on October 22, 2026, bringing professional emergency response to Safety Mode across the United States.

When an agent escalates an emergency, Affiliated Monitoring's trained operators receive the alert together with the agent's relevant details and available location information. Operators follow procedures for the type of alert and contact emergency services when required, including when the agent cannot respond or confirm they are safe.

The partnership adds an around-the-clock human response to Safety Mode, which combines emergency contacts, a safe word, a silent PIN, distress detection and emergency response with live location. Read the full announcement at the source link.
